

Task 3 – Reading into writing

Some students in your class are interested in making a short film for a film competition. You have been asked to write a short report (100-130 words) for your class about making a short film.

Use the information you read in Part 2 to:

- describe how to make a short film
- say why you think a short film course is a good idea
- explain what they will have to do to enter their film in the competition

You should plan your short report before you start writing. Think about what you want to say and make some notes to help you in this box:

Planning notes:

Planning notes:

- Describir como hacer el conto
- Decir porque es una buena idea el concurso del conto
- Expone que necesiam para entrar en la competición

(No marks are given for these planning notes)

Now write your report of 100-130 words on the lines below. Try to use your own words as far as possible - don't just copy sentences from the reading texts.

This image shows a single sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There is no handwriting or other markings on the paper.
